

International Legal Ethics Conference IV

July 15-17, 2010

Stanford University
Palo Alto, California

StanfordLawSchool

Stanford Center on the Legal Profession

Co-sponsored by The American Bar Association
Center for Professional Responsibility

The Legal Profession in Times of Turbulence

Please join leaders in the field of legal ethics for the fourth International Legal Ethics Conference, the first time this event is being held in the United States. Experts from across the globe will present papers and engage in dialogue on critical challenges facing the legal profession: the ethics of advocacy, lawyers and leadership, professional responsibility curricula, conditions of legal practice, bar regulatory structures, access to justice, diversity, cause lawyering, client relationships, and globalization.

An outstanding roster of presenters and panelists already is being assembled, including leaders in the field from the United States, the United Kingdom, Australia, and Canada. Paper and panel proposals / short abstracts are still being accepted through January 15, 2010.

Plan your San Francisco Bay Area travel now. The conference registration fee will run $400, with an early bird rate of $350 on or before to March 31, 2010. Blocks of rooms (from July 14-18) and meal plans are available at varying price points. Limited housing subsidies and waivers of the registration fee will be provided based on need. Applicants for assistance should submit a request with information indicating any special circumstances justifying support.

For more information and registration, please visit <http://blogs.law.stanford.edu/ilec4>

Please email your abstracts / submissions to ilec4@law.stanford.edu