

CRIMINAL PROCEDURAL REFORM AND THE MINISTERIO PUBLICO:
TOWARD THE CONSTRUCTION OF A NEW CRIMINAL
JUSTICE SYSTEM IN LATIN AMERICA

A THESIS
SUBMITTED TO THE
STANFORD PROGRAM IN INTERNATIONAL LEGAL STUDIES
AT STANFORD LAW SCHOOL,
STANFORD UNIVERSITY
IN PARTIAL FULFILLMENT OF THE REQUIREMENTS
FOR THE DEGREE OF
JURIDICAL SCIENCES MASTER

By
Mauricio Duce
May 1999

ABSTRACT

Since the mid eighties extensive efforts have been made in Latin American countries to reform their administration of justice. The principal focus of this process has been towards a radical transformation away from a highly authoritarian inquisitorial model of criminal procedure adopted by most Latin American countries in the nineteenth century. An important component of these reforms is the creation of the Ministerio Publico (Public Prosecutor's Office) or, for those countries that already have this institution, its reformation according to the functions required by the new model of criminal procedure. This thesis analyzes the reform of the criminal justice system in Latin America, and in particular, the reform of the Ministerio Publico, and the Chilean proposal to create this institution. In the first part, I explain the historical setting of criminal procedure in Latin America and discuss current efforts to transform it. I emphasize that the criminal procedure model that Latin American countries are reforming is an orthodox version of inquisitorial procedure, and different from the model adopted by European countries since the nineteenth century. I also describe the characteristics of and the main forces behind the reform movement underway for the transformation of the criminal justice system in Latin America. In part two, I analyze the state of the reform process with regard to the Ministerio Publico in Latin America, challenging conventional academic debate arising from this event. I propose a new debate focused on the problems that the institution is facing in the region to replace the theoretical discussion of legal models. The new debate should focus on the implementation of the Ministerio Publico, its independence and coordination with other agencies and the exercise of its discretionary powers. I also analyze the Chilean proposal to create the Ministerio Publico. Finally, I propose future courses of action for the Ministerio Publico in Chile in its role as an actor in the new criminal justice system and as an institutional answer for some social problems beyond the criminal justice system such as public safety and corruption.

TABLE OF CONTENTS

INTRODUCTION.....	1
-------------------	---

PART I

CHAPTER I:

WHAT WE ARE REFORMING?: TOWARD A HISTORICAL UNDERSTANDING OF THE CRIMINAL PROCEDURE IN LATIN AMERICA.....	12
---	----

1.- The Inquisitorial Model of Criminal Procedure.....	18
2.- Imposition of the Spanish legal System into the Indies and the Adoption of the Inquisitorial Model of Criminal Procedure in the Independent New Latin American States.....	21
3.- The Evolution of the Latin American Inquisitorial System in the Twentieth Century.....	31
4.- Description of the Main Features of the Latin American Inquisitorial Criminal Procedure.....	34
A.- Power of Judges.....	36
B.- General Characteristics of the Procedure.....	39
C.- Procedural Structure.....	44
D.- The Concept of the Inquisitorial Culture.....	49
E.- The Situation of the Ministerio Publico in the Latin American Inquisitorial Criminal Procedure.....	51

CHAPTER II:

THE REFORM OF THE CRIMINAL PROCEDURE IN LATIN AMERICA.....	59
--	----

1.- The New regional Movement for the Reform.....	61
A.- Shared Diagnosis.....	63
B.- Similar Strategy and Proposals.....	65
C.- Regional Extension and Links Among Reforms.....	66
D.- Political Dimension of the Reform.....	67
E.- Multidisciplinary Approach.....	69
2.- Overview of the Situation of the Reform in Latin America.....	70
3.- The Movement for the Reform: A Complex Set of Factors.	74
A.- Democratization Process.....	75
B.- Human Rights and Reform.....	77
C.- Economic Development and Modernization of the State.....	81
D.- Negative Perception of the Judicial System and Failure of the Inquisitorial Procedure.....	83
E.- Globalization and Convergence.....	87
F.- Role of International Players.....	89
G.- The Role of a New Technical Elite of Reformers...	98

4.- Description of the Main Features of the New Model of Criminal Procedure.....	100
A.- New Actors.....	102
B.- General Characteristics.....	105
C.- Procedural Structure.....	107

PART II

CHAPTER III

THE MINISTERIO PUBLICO AND THE REFORM OF THE CRIMINAL PROCEDURE.....	113
--	-----

1.- Role of the Ministerio Publico in the Reconfiguration of the Criminal Justice in latin America.....	117
A.- Elimination of the Inquisitorial System.....	118
B.- Ministerio Publico is the Engine of the New System.....	123

2.- The Ministerio Publico in Latin America After the Reform, An Overview.....	128
A.- Structure of the Ministerio Publico .....	128
B.- Procedural Functions.....	136

3.- Common Problems in the Reconfiguration of the Ministerio Publico in the Region.....	141
A.- The Ubiquitous Problem of the Institutional Affiliation.....	141
B.- The Current Situation of the Institutional Affiliation of the Ministerio Publico in Latin America.....	147
C.- Refocusing the Debate: Problems v. Models.....	148
D.- What are the Problems that the Ministerio Publico Has Faced in Latin America?.....	152
D.1.- The Right Degree of Independence of the Ministerio Publico .....	154
D.2.- Institutional Coordination.....	165
D.3.- Right Amount of Discretion.....	171
D.4.- Implementation: A Neglected Issue.....	174

CHAPTER IV

THE REFORM OF THE MINISTERIO PUBLICO IN CHILE.....	179
--	-----

1.- Description of the Chilean Proposal to Create the Ministerio Publico .....	180
A.- The Constitutional Reform of 1997.....	183
B.- The Proposal of organic Law of the Ministerio Publico .....	188
C.- Complementary Studies.....	192

2.- The Reform of the Ministerio Publico Beyond the Scope of the Criminal Procedure.....	199
A.- Why the Reform of the Ministerio Publico Is Used for

Goals that Are Beyond the Traditional Scope of the Criminal procedure.....	200
B.- The New Institutional Goals of the Ministerio Publico .....	203
C.- Legitimacy and Consequences of Incorporing New Institutional Goals for the Ministerio Publico .....	209
3.- The Future of the Ministerio Publico in Chile.....	213
A.- Suggestions for the Future Work of the Ministerio Publico as an Actor of the New Criminal Procedure...	214
B.- Suggestions for the Future Work of the Ministerio Publico as an Institutional Answer for the Problems of Public Safety and Corruption.....	220
CONCLUSION.....	231
REFERENCES.....	235